New e-learning course

The award-winning Healthwatch Essex 'Introduction to Lived Experience' training course is now available as an e-learning course.

In response to the huge success of the Healthwatch Essex Ambassador training programme, Healthwatch Essex are pleased to announce the launch of an online version of the course, with the aim of making it more easily accessible to busy professionals and volunteers alike.

The 'Introduction to Lived Experience' is relevant to anyone whose role it is to engage effectively with the public, whether you're a health or care professional, a commissioner or a volunteer. The course covers the importance of knowing and engaging with your community, active and positive listening techniques and the principles of inclusion. It is designed to equip you with the skills you need to collect and represent the voice of the people you engage with.

Talk on urology surgery

A presentation about urology surgery will be given at next week's meeting of the North East Essex Urology Cancer Support Group.

It will be made by Mr John Corr, a consultant urological surgeon who is based at Colchester General Hospital.

The meeting will take place on Wednesday 1 November between 6pm and 8pm in Training Rooms South, Colchester General Hospital (near the hospital's main entrance).

It is open to patients, partners and carers whose lives have been affected by any urological cancer – kidney, prostate, bladder, testicular or penile.

The North East Essex Urology Cancer Support Group meets on the first Wednesday of every month, except in January and August.

Meetings are informal and people attending have plenty of time to chat with each other. Activities also include social evenings, guest speakers and a chance to meet clinicians.

* For further information Contact Maggie Braithwaite, Rachel Minter, Lucy Powell or Amy Sibbons, who are all urology cancer nurses, on 01206 742964.

Essex County Council would like to thank those that supported the launch of the Essex Faith Covenant.

Bishops, Rabbis, Imams and a host of other religious leaders from across Essex joined forces for the launch of the Essex Faith Covenant, where they pledged to work together to build trust, harmony and ultimately help the county's most vulnerable people. Thank you to everyone who has helped to make what is Britain's first countywide faith covenant a reality.

Tips published for people with long term conditions on how to stay well over winter

Clinicians across Colchester and Tendring have published some tips for local people living with long term conditions to stay well over winter.

They relate to a range of conditions including chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), asthma, heart failure and diabetes and are available from North East Essex Clinical Commissioning Group's website.

Dr Phil Brown, GP and Emergency Physician, helped developed them. He said: "Long term conditions can be exacerbated over winter and these simple easy to use sheets are designed to help people during what is widely predicted to be a very challenging winter period."

Dr Brown added: "It is vital that anyone with a long term condition gets vaccinated against flu to protect themselves against this nasty condition and to ensure they know what to do if they do fall ill."

People's Panel

Do you have views about how to make Braintree District an even better place to live and work? Do you want to have your opinion heard and have an influence on how services are developed and improved?

Join the People's Panel for the Braintree District via the online form, and share your thoughts!

Who can take part in the People's Panel

Braintree District Council want panellists from all areas of the district, representing all age groups and backgrounds. The only restriction is that you must be over the age of 16. To make it easier to take part the questionnaires can be sent to you in large print, over the phone or in different languages.

To help ensure that the People's Panel reflects Braintree District's population they need to know a few things about you and ask that you complete the short application form.

How the People's Panel Works

From time to time, you will be asked to complete a short survey either by post or electronically. The information you give will be collected and read by elected councillors, service managers and senior council officers and will be used to help make decisions about issues in the District. The main results from the questionnaire will be published and any progress or decisions that have been made as a result of your feedback.

Your responses are confidential and your details will not be passed onto third party organisations. All information will be used and stored in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.
